ASU KARSTEN GOLF COURSE OFFERS UNLIMITED GOLF WITH ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP PROGRAM

TEMPE, Ariz. – ASU Karsten Golf Course – home course of Arizona State University’s golf programs – announced today the sale of their Karsten Club annual membership which offers unlimited golf through December, 2017. Memberships are available for single ($3,500), couple ($6,000) or corporate ($10,000) entities.

“If you’re looking for a place to call your own, then look no further than ASU Karsten,” said Derek Crawford, General Manager of ASU Karsten Golf Course. “There’s something special about having a home course, and we want to offer that option to our customers at an affordable rate.”

In addition to unlimited golf, Karsten Club members also can enjoy unlimited practice balls, 30-day advanced reservation privileges, USGA handicap privileges, up to 20 percent off merchandise at the golf shop and 25-40 percent off the posted green fees at all participating OB Sports-managed golf courses.

“Karsten Club membership is perfect for businesses and recreational golfers alike,” said Phil Green, COO and Principal of OB Sports. “Not only can members enjoy a home-course experience, but they can also get benefits at a number of OB Sports courses in the Valley, Las Vegas, Southern California and other locations across the United States.”

About ASU Karsten Golf Course

The ASU Karsten Golf Course is a 7,002-yard, par-70 classic Pete Dye design reminiscent of a Scottish links course. Since opening in 1989, ASU Karsten has attracted the attention of prominent NCAA golf events and coveted tournaments such as the Phoenix Thunderbirds and PING Invitational. Managed by OB Sports, the ASU Karsten Golf Course is also home to the Arizona State University men’s and women’s NCAA golf teams, both multiple national championship winners.
